〔講義の目的〕 This course has several goals, including improving vocabulary range (mastery of 2,000 high frequency words and academic words), learning basic fluency skills such as how to describe daily objects, talk about daily routines, how to give directions, how to use and count money, and how to talk about future dreams and goals.
〔講義の概要〕 Students will develop their active (i.e., speaking) vocabulary as well as practice using communication strategies. The textbook provides many examples of real-life English in typical daily situations. In front of classmates, students will make a speech, a short 10-minute pair dialogue, and two presentations in groups. One presentation will be about a cultural difference, and one presentation will be about a city or country in which the student would like to have a homestay experience. Weekly video clips online will help students practice real English dialogue and encounter cultural differences.
〔履修上の留意点〕 There is a saying, "Use it or lose it," and this is definitely true for learning a language. Tests can help with new words, but only practice using the language will help students take control of English and make it their own. Shadowing is a strategy that students can use outside the class to practice both speaking and listening skills. Classmates are also a great resource. When students help each other, they can also help themselves. One on one conversations with the teacher are not possible in large classes; students will need to engage in conversation with each other to make progress.
〔到達目標〕 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ・ Make two speeches in English ・ Create and perform two dialogues in English. ・ Gain speaking self-confidence for practical overseas trip situations.
〔評価方法〕 Class Participation (20%) / Class speeches and presentations (50%) / Online videos (30%)
